

THE SIXTH BALLOT

Was Taken By Cardinals Monday Without an Election

It Is Now Believed That Chances of the Leading Candidates for Papal Honors are Completely Gone—Great Interest is Being Shown.

Rome, Aug. 3.—At 6:23 this evening smoke was again seen issuing from the stove pipe of the Vatican which shows that the third day of the conclave has passed without a selection having been made. So far, six ballots for Pope have been taken without results.

Rome, Aug. 3.—The fifth ballot for the election of a pope was taken this morning and at 11:30 today from the stove pipe over the Sistine chapel smoke was seen, indicating that no selection had been made.

It is now believed that the chances of the leading candidates for the papal chair are completely gone and that the votes are being scattered among the outsiders.

The Roman populace assembled twice Sunday in the Piazza de San Pietro to watch "la fumata" issue from the Sistine Chapel. The day being Sunday the crowd in the great square was even larger than Saturday. When the smoke became visible the cry arose, "The smoke, the smoke, no pope, no pope."

The opinion generally expressed is that a determined conflict is proceeding between the most prominent candidates, and that in view of the impossibility of either leading "Pababili" getting a majority, the conclave is repeating its ballots with a view to the selection of a "neutral" pope. In the meantime numerous dispatches of congratulation have arrived at the Vatican for leading "Pababili," addressed to "His Holiness Pope Gotti," "His Holiness Pope Rampolla," and so on. These dispatches have been sent to the conclave through the turning boxes.

Among those members of the Vatican world who have remained outside the conclave the opinion prevails that the choice lies between Rampolla and Vanutelli and that the conclave may last several days longer. There are thousands of rumors and unverified statements afloat as to what happened in the conclave today, but the only thing which seems to be reliably known is that the entire Sacred College assisted at mass, which was conducted by Father Palmiri, the confessor, and that the "Veni Creator" was sung.

A great quantity of provisions was sent into the conclave through the wicket gate, including 300 chickens, 500 newly laid eggs, many hies of milk, crates of fruit, etc. All the provisions were thoroughly examined before being allowed to pass through the wicket. Forty of the chickens were cut open to see that they did not contain contraband matter.

JETT-WHITE TRIAL

Prosecution Has Only Eight More Witnesses to Examine—One Map Tells of White's Threat—Ready For Caleb Powers' Third Trial.

Cynthiana, Ky., Aug. 3.—The prosecution in the trial of Curt Jett and Tom White for the assassination of J. B. Marcum is nearing its close. Eight more witnesses are being examined and the defense will open. The first witness today was J. J. Little, who was with John Bratton, Captain Bell and a detachment of soldiers when White was arrested. The witness testified that White said, when the warrant was read to him that he wanted to know who got out the warrant for him, and asked Bratton to come into the house until he got dressed. He then said, "When I get out I will make those witnesses' lives d—d hard who testify against me."

POWERS' THIRD TRIAL.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 3.—"The commonwealth is ready to give Caleb Powers, the third trial for his life for the assassination of Governor Goebel," said Commonwealth Attorney Franklin when he arrived here from Frankfort this morning, "and I will insist that it be done at this special term." Powers has been tried twice on the charge of complicity of assassinating Goebel, and was twice sentenced to life imprisonment.

RED PAINT

Used to Color Unripe Tomatoes for Canning Purposes—Startling Discovery Made.

Philadelphia, Aug. 3.—State Dairy and Food Commissioner Warren has made the startling discovery that red paint is being used to color unripe tomatoes for canning purposes.

He was recently notified by a reputable member of the Retail Grocers' association of this city that a consignment marked "pure canned tomatoes" was received at the store which, upon close examination, proved to be nothing but a miscellaneous assortment of vegetables, including a few green tomatoes, and red paint the whole having the appearance of ripe tomatoes.

Agents of the dairy and food department were at once detailed to investigate and were astonished to find that red paint was used to a great extent in coloring unripe tomatoes and that other coloring matter was also used to give a ripe appearance to worthless canned vegetables of various kinds.

Certain small canned goods manufacturers in this city and other parts of the state have been under the surveillance of the agents of the department for some time and Charles L. Brown, attorney for the department, has a long list of names now in his hands.

CHASED

By a Mob of Angry Whites in the Capital of New York State—Threatened Lynching.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 3.—An attempt was made to lynch a negro named Bert Hazelock Sunday but the intended victim was protected by a policeman with a drawn revolver.

Two negroes were fighting in the street, when John Scharff, white, tried to separate them. Hazelock drew a razor and slashed Scharff in the back. A crowd of 50 white men attracted by the brawl, made a rush for the negro, who ran down Third street. Cries of "Lynch the negro" and "Hang him" were uttered, and stones, bricks and other missiles were thrown at the fugitive. A paving stone broke his arm and knocked him down, but he regained his feet and continued his flight followed by the crowd, which had grown to 200. Hazelock ran into a house in Second street, near Swan street, frightening the women occupants, and bolting the door to save himself. The crowd had surrounded the house when John Bagley, a policeman, arrived. He went into the house to arrest Hazelock.

As the policeman took the negro out several men rushed forward to seize the prisoner, but Bagley drew his revolver and kept them at bay until the arrival of other policemen, who escorted the negro to the station house.

In Greater New York the average number of children in Protestant families is 1.85; in Catholic families 2.03; in Hebrew families, 2.54.

HIS MOTHER

Married a Second Time and the Boy Killed Himself.

Stanford, Ky., Aug. 3.—Grief-stricken because his mother had married a second time Charles Saufley, aged 15 years, committed suicide by drinking a quantity of carbolic acid. His mother, Mrs. Nannie S. Saufley four weeks ago was married to J. C. McCary, an estimable business man of this city, but the young man never approved of the marriage and grew more despondent every day. This morning he went to the depot and, entering the waiting room, took the bottle containing the deadly liquid from his pocket and swallowed its contents. He died at 7:30 tonight.

Saufley was recently appointed an alternate naval cadet by President Roosevelt.

CITADEL

For the Salvation Army May be Located on Longworth Street—Generous Donations.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 3.—Colonel Holz of the Salvation Army stated that a plan for buying a building lot in Cincinnati located near the Grand Opera House, between Vine and Race streets, for $35,000 was being favorably considered. The building is a four story brick and Colonel Holz will go to Cincinnati Thursday to inspect it. If the building can be suitably remodeled for $7,000 or $8,000 the property will probably be purchased.

It is the plan to remodel the building after the plan of the Salvation Army citadel in Cleveland. Colonel Holz stated that a wealthy lady of Cincinnati who is a good friend of the army, offers to give $5,000 toward the purchase of the building and lot. He also said that two or three other friends of the army in Cincinnati had offered to assist financially in purchasing the property for the Army.

DAN EMMETT

Composer of Dixie is Also the Author of Another Popular Song. Old Dan Tucker.

While engaged in making his index to Ohio Authors, State Librarian C. E. Galbreath recently made the discovery that Daniel Decatur Emmett, best known as "Uncle Dan" Emmett, the veteran minstrel and composer of the famous song "Dixie," whose home is near Mt. Vernon, O., was also the author of formerly almost equally popular song "Old Dan Tucker."

"Uncle Dan" is well known in Newark.

Mr. Emmett is now about 87 years of age. In early life he was a printer, and served as a soldier in the civil war. In 1842 he formed a minstrel company which gave its first performance at a New York theatre. The company was known as the Virginia Minstrels which made a tour of England, after scoring a big success in this country.

LOCKOUT

Of Building Trades at Pittsburg Became Effective Monday Morning—Thousands Involved.

Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—The lockout of building trades became effective this morning and 10,000 workmen are idle. All building work is stagnated. Structural iron workers, carpenters, brick layers, painters and plumbers are affected.

EXCHANGE OF CABLES.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The following cablegrams have been exchanged between the King of Portugal and President Roosevelt: "Lisbon, Aug. 1, 1903.—To President Roosevelt, Washington. I had at this moment the pleasure of drinking your health and prosperity of the American navy on board the Brooklyn. (Signed.) King of Portugal." "Washington, Aug. 3, 1903.—His Majesty, King of Portugal, Lisbon—I most cordially reciprocate your Majesty's meeting, seeing in the friendly occasion which prompts it renewed proof of the good will which united two countries and peoples. (Signed.) Theodore Roosevelt."

FELL DEAD

WHEN REFUSED LICENSE TO WED COLORED WOMAN.

Doctors Say It Was Neuralgia of the Heart—Had No Cash to Pay for the License.

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 3.—William Cohn walked into the circuit clerk's office today with a colored woman by his side and requested a marriage license stating that he had not the money to pay down, but that he would settle later. On being refused the document Cohn started from the clerk's office but before he got out of room, fell dead. Physicians say his death was due to neuralgia of the heart.

Cohn was a white man.

ANOTHER "QUAD" DEAD.

Toledo, O., Aug. 3.—Cholera infantum claimed another of the famous Spychalski quads. Samuel Jones Spychalski died last Tuesday and Sunday the other boy, Theodore Roosevelt, succumbed. The two girls are also ill but the attending physicians think they will pull through.

ITALIANS

WHO WERE CALLED SCABS SHOT INTO-CROWD

But No Bullets Took Effect—Fifty Italians Were Then Arrested in Buffalo Monday.

Buffalo, Aug. 3.—Fifty Italians were arrested this morning and a hundred shots were fired in a riot caused by 200 Italian non-union men, being employed by the Buffalo Union Furnace company. The Italians on their way to work were called "scabs." They opened fire on those who called names and were dispersed by the police and then hundreds of the dock-workers chased them and showered them with bricks and stones. The Italians were dragged from their hiding places in lake and canal boats and arrested, when found. No shots took effect.

"MONEY"

Did the Killing, Says the Witness Forced by the Defense to go on the Stand.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 3.—Elisha Clements, of Jackson, and who is said to be an important witness in the Jett-White case was brought to this city last night in custody of Deputy Sheriff Doug. Haynes. Clements had been summoned by the commonwealth, and was released by the prosecution, the defense assenting. Later, the defense thought it could use him, and sent a subpoenae for him. He ignored it, and an attachment was issued.

While in this city he told Haynes that he thought the defense had made a mistake in forcing him to testify, as he knew nearly as much about the matter as did Captain Ewen. Being questioned, he stated that he heard Jett tell Mrs. Johnson, the sister of Marcum, that "he did the shooting, but that another man—money did the killing." He was taken to Cynthiana this morning.

Hamilton Murder.

Hamilton, O., Aug. 3.—William Deerwester, 47, a carpenter, was shot to death by Clark Hoffman, proprietor of the Star hotel at Seven Mile, Saturday night, in a fight.

Hoffman seized a shotgun and fired at short range, hitting a hole as large as a man's arm through the victim's abdomen, carrying away the pelvic bone. The intestines were cut to pieces. Deerwester died Sunday.

Hoffman was arrested by Sheriff Bisdorf on a charge of first degree murder. He claims that because he refused to sell Deerwester beer, the latter assaulted him with a bird cue, and that he fired in self-defense. Witnesses told Prosecutor Gard today that Deerwester had no billiard cue and that Hoffman began the assault.

Hoffman was married a week ago and Deerwester within the past year.

BOAT CAPSIZED.

Toledo Merchant Drowned in the Presence of His Intended.

Toledo, O., Aug. 3.—Jerome Grosh, a member of the wholesale millinery firm of J. V. Clemen & Co., was drowned at Put-in-Bay as the result of the capsizing of a sail boat occupied by himself and Miss Alice Sturgis.

Grosh aided Miss Sturgis, and both succeeded in getting hold of the upturned boat, while a boat from the life saving station went to their rescue.

Just before it reached them Grosh was seized with cramps and sank. Miss Sturgis was rescued. Both were good swimmers and a moment before he sank Mr. Grosh joked Miss Sturgis about their predicament. They were engaged to be married.

HIGH HEELS

Of Her Shoes May Cost the Life of Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter's Daughter-in-Law.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 3.—Mrs. William Hunter, wife of the son of Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter, former Minister to Guatemala and Honduras, is critically ill at Norton Infirmary as a result of wearing high heeled shoes.

Mrs. Hunter was compelled to have an operation performed several months ago, but the relief was only temporary. She had been out of the infirmary but three weeks, when the disease began to reassert itself, and yesterday it was necessary to send her back to the infirmary to undergo an operation.

Dr. A. M. Cartledge has notified Mr. Hunter that an amputation will be necessary and doubts that even this radical treatment will save her life. Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter, who is now in New York, was telegraphed for and arrived in Louisville today.

Mrs. Hunter is a daughter of Mrs. Ida Malkin of 123 East Gray street. She is 23 years of age.

MISTAKE

Causes Kentucky Wreck in Which Six People Were Killed and Forty Cars Demolished.

Somerset, Ky., Aug. 3.—Through misunderstanding of orders two Queen & Crescent freight trains, both double headers, collided head on Saturday at midnight between Cumberland falls and Greenwood, killing six men, fatally injuring one and seriously injuring another.

The bodies were recovered of Fireman Joseph Phillips, Frank Fletcher and Walter Walters and an unknown man who was stealing a ride.

The dead bodies of two brakemen whose names were not learned, are known to be buried under the debris where forty cars were wrecked.

Engineers Duke and Fitzgerald were seriously injured. Duke may die.

Engineers Klein and Hainsworth both escaped by jumping, as did the rest of the trainmen.

DIVINE

Who Went to Chicago from Ohio Will Leave the Pastorate of First Methodist Church.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Evanston church circles were stirred by the statement of the trustees of the First Methodist church that Dr. Wm. A. Macafee, for five years their pastor, would terminate his ministerial career in the university town this fall.

Already, it is said, an invitation has been extended to Rev. F. P. Frost, at present pastor of the First Methodist church of Newark, N. J., to succeed Macafee.

Members of the church said there was a diversity of opinion in regard to the present pastor. They said they liked him well as a scholar and a man and some of them liked him as a pastor. Others objected to him.

Dr. Macafee came to Evanston in the fall of 1898 from Columbus, O., where he had charge of the Third avenue church for five years. The Evanston church has a membership of 1200 and is the largest church in the Rock River conference. The church is no larger now than it was five years ago.

GORMAN'S KEYNOTE

Declares Not Men, But Principles, Are to Be Considered

The Senator Would Make Tariff Reform, Economy and Honesty in Office the Leading Issues in the Next National Campaign.

New York, Aug. 3.—Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland, who, with his wife, has been in Europe several weeks returned Saturday aboard the American liner New York. The senator was affable, but diplomatic, not to say reticent, with interviewers. To the question, "Are you a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency?" the senator said: "I am not, ex-President were nominated by the Democrats, Mr. Gorman said: "We have never quarreled; we merely differed."

About the attitude of President Roosevelt toward the negro, Mr. Gorman said: "The negro question is now outside the pale of politics. It is heavier than a political problem."

"Will President Roosevelt's attitude make the South more solid?"

"Oh, the South is solid enough."

"How about financial legislation?"

"Well, I don't know what to think. I understand that the banks are opposed to some plans proposed. The Democrats can't do anything this year. Besides, I think it is up to the Republicans to frame the necessary legislation."

"What, in your opinion, will be the issues next year?"

"So far as the Democracy is concerned, it seems to me that tariff reform, economy and honesty in public offices are issues enough."

"Will you take a prominent part in the next National campaign?"

"I am just a soldier in the ranks."

Senator Gorman intimated that Baltimore had small chance of being selected as the place for the Democratic convention. He expressed no preference for any Democratic candidate for governor of his State."

and never have been considering any individual, including myself, as a candidate. It is not the man but the good of the party that a good Democrat should think about."

WOMAN ACCUSED

Candy That Killed the Child Was Given to Him By 'Mrs. Guller, the Jury Held—Father of the Lad Superseded Her Husband.

Bunker Hill, Ill., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Ida F. Guller is held here by the verdict of the coroner's jury for the murder of Ewart Mears Checkfield, the six-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Checkfield, who died from the effects of poisoned candy, alleged to have been given to him by the wife of the man his father was sent to supersede. Immediately after the verdict was rendered Coroner C. C. Robinson issued a mittimus binding Mrs. Guller to the grand jury. The mittimus takes precedence over the warrant issued on Saturday night by the father of the boy and there will be no preliminary hearing. Ms. Guller is now in the custody of a deputy sheriff and she will be removed to Carlinville, the county seat today if her physical condition permits.

Attorney Hayes was retained by Mr. Guller to represent his wife. Hayes said that Mrs. Guller's suffering from nervous prostration and that her condition is serious. Several persons, who are all well acquainted with the woman, stated however, that they had seen Mrs. Guller in the front yard at her home on three or four occasions.

Mrs. Guller was placed under arrest late Saturday night by City Marshal Herbst, but as her physician stated that the woman could not be moved, she was allowed to remain in her home with deputies stationed near her room. The coroner's verdict was received

The coroner decided to send the stomach, which was removed from the boy's body at the post mortem examination, to an analytical chemist in St. Louis. It has not been definitely decided to whom will be given the work of examining the stomach, but it will probably be Dr. Telchmann. It was sent to St. Louis today by Dr. Bley, who removed the organ from the body.

Should Mrs. Guller be indicted by the grand jury Attorney Harry R. Budd of Bunker Hill, will represent Mr. Checkfield at the trial.

Prosecuting Attorney Mahoney will handle the case for the state, and it is said that other attorneys will be associated with them. Mrs. Guller is the wife of Gilbert Guller, who has been the local agent of the Union Dairy company of St. Louis for 15 years. She is a native of Greenfield, Ill., and is about 48 years old. Although regarded as old residents of Bunker Hill the Gullers did not associate to any great extent with their fellow townsmen.

It is thought that they are in very comfortable circumstances. Guller received a good salary as agent and his wife received $30 a month as his assistant. The position of agent is regarded as very desirable, and although Guller had told several persons here that he desired a change it is not generally believed he really cared to surrender his place.

EARTHQUAKE STARTS A PANIC.

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—An earthquake started the audience in the Central theater last night and there was something of a panic. Quiet was soon restored, however, and no one was injured.

There were two shocks, lasting 45 seconds.

The trembling was general throughout California, but no damage was done as far as known.

BODIES

Of Militiamen Found on the Scene of Saturday's Conflict—The Convicts At Large.

Placerville, Cal. Aug. 3.—The convicts who escaped from Folsom prison are still at large. The five who engaged in a fatal fight with the pursuers at the Grand Victory mines have not been seen and apparently have made a successful retreat. In their haste to get away from the militia and sheriff's posse they left a water can, several hats and some firearms on hill side where Saturday night's conflict occurred.

The dead bodies of Festus Rutherford and W. C. Jones, the two militiamen who were shot by the outlaws, were found this morning where they had fallen. Jones has served in the Philippines as a member of the First Tennessee and the Thirty-seventh Volunteer United States Infantry. Al Gill, the national guardsman who was shot through one lung, is expected to recover.

Another victim of the convict chase was Philip Springer, a resident of this district. He is hard of hearing, and, failing to respond to an order to halt, was fatally shot by a picket.

A report states that four convicts, not believed to be the same who ambushed the officers, were discovered near Lotus, in the Weber Creek district by a posse. A number of shots were exchanged, but as far as known without result.

The body of a dead convict has just been found on the hill where the fight occurred near Grand Victor mine. One leg had been disabled, and he crawled toward the water at the creek where he died, and the brush fire burned over him.

KILLED HIMSELF

Thinking That He Had Ended His Wife's Life—She Recovered.

Lima, O., Aug. 3.—Later developments in the tragedy near Cridersville show that George Stein shot his wife four times while escorting her from Wapakoneta to the home of her sister, Mrs. Reeder. Though the wife was twice reported dead she revived, and now it is believed she will recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Stein engaged in a desperate conflict in their buggy within a mile of the sister's home, the husband accusing the wife of infidelity. Pressing the revolver to her bosom he fired four times, but in the hand-to-hand conflict Stein was pushed out of the buggy. He evidently believed he had murdered his wife, and ended his own existence along the roadway.

Stein married Miss Caroline Burden about seven years ago. They have two children who are at the home of the mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burden, in Anglaise County.

The body of suicide was viewed by the coroner of Anglaise and taken to the home of his brother John, in Cridersville.

Stein met his wife in Wapakoneta yesterday after a six months' separation.

GEN. CLAY

Leaves Two Wills the Last One Having Just Been Produced by His Former Child Wife.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 3.—Another will of Cassius M. Clay executed March 28, 1901, a year after the one offered for probate in Richmond, has been produced by Dora Clay Brock, the former child-wife of General Clay. The instrument is in General Clay's own handwriting, and sealed on the back with his private seal ring in green wax and is as follows:

Section 1 and 2 appoint Dora Brock, his former wife, and two others, selected by her, as executors and gives them one-half of the proceeds of certain sales.

"Section 3—The White Hall lands and fixtures of 300 acres shall remain—including houses, trees, etc., forever the same intact—the finest natural park on earth. It shall be in fee-simple the property of the United States of America in trust for the inhabitants of this earth. It shall be so long under the care of my executors as may be deemed best by the federal government, and then be under their directions and support in the purposes of this bequest.

"Fourth—My coal mines in Clay county, Ky., bought of Eli Bowlin, near Manchester, about 300 acres, more or less, shall be formed into a company and worked for the use and benefit of the funds and needs of the White Hall park.

"Of the works of art in my house, the portraits of Emperor and Empress of Russia, given my by their majesties with their autographs and seals, and the likeness (painting) of my son, Warfield Clay, shall remain, and such other things not then disposed of shall remain there forever. The bust of this legator in marble on Verdu—antique marble stand—wherever found—by the great sculptor, Joel Todd Hart, shall be placed in Cochran gallery at Washington, D. C., or other gallery, as they elect (executors).

"Section 10—My manuscripts, five volumes or more of my memoirs, the material for 'Icarus,' written by this legator, shall be given to the Association of American Authors in New York—of which I am an honorary member—for publication and copyrighted one-half of the proceeds to go to my former wife, Dora, and the other half to the society forever—in the event of her death before publication of said book 'Icarus,' the children of said Dora Cassius and Marcellus C. Brock, forever."

The other will, dated May 12, 1903, was offered for probate today and it was for her protection in that will that Dora Brock retained J. M. Norwood, to whom she told that she had an unopened envelope that General Clay gave her with the admonition that it was to be kept until after his death. It turned out to be the last will. Colonel James Scott has since been retained to assist Mr. Norwood.

HER GEMS

Valued at Eighty Thousand Dollars Worn at Reception Stolen During the Night.

Honolulu, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Samuel Parker has been robbed of $80,000 worth of jewelry, consisting chiefly of diamonds, rubies and solitaire studs. She wore the jewels on Saturday night at a reception to signalize the opening of a new hotel. Several hours later the thief or thieves entered her home and stole many of the gems she had displayed.

Mrs. Parker, who is the wife of Colonel Samuel Parker, one of the wealthiest men in Hawaii, was the widow of J. K. Campbell, who left her one-third of his $4,000,000 estate. She was married to Colonel Parker about a year and a half ago, and on the same day her eldest daughter was wedded to Prince David.

No clue to the robbers has been found.

THIRTY HURT

In a Trolley Wreck in Indiana—Two Special Interurbans Collide on a Curve at High Speed.

Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Behind time and running at a high rate of speed, car No. 106, southbound, on the Indianapolis and Martinsville interurban road crashed into a northbound car three miles south of Moporeville Sunday, injuring over 30 people, two of whom will probably die.

The southbound car was heavily loaded with passengers bound for Bethany park. The northbound car had only a few passengers and, with the exception of the motorman, Frank Easterday, none was injured. Both cars were specials and met on a curve.

Frank Easterday, motorman, Indianapolis, hip dislocated and internal injuries.

Mrs. Mary Strawburn, Martinsville, head cut and internal injuries.

The accident happened in a grove remote from town or farmhouse and it was impossible to secure aid until another car arrived from Martinsville, when the injured were removed to Bethany park and medical aid summoned.

Bethany park is the summer assembly of the Christian church, and the passengers were going to the park to attend services.

The women at the park joined in preparing bandages and in aiding the physicians. All the injured were removed to their homes. The cause of the accident, it is said, was due to the telephone system not being in good working order and the crew not being able to get orders.

MISS GOULD

Is Asked to Arbitrate in a Big Strike in the Holyoke Mass., Paper Mills.

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 3.—Miss Helen M. Gould has been asked to act as arbitrator in the big strike in Holyoke paper mills. The invitation was forwarded by Miss Nellie Boland, leader of the striking cutter girls. Miss Boland believes that the paper mills would not refuse to accept the good offices of one so eminently fair minded as Miss Gould. The strike involves four thousand employees.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET

Representative.
W. D. BENNER.

County Treasurer.
W. N. FULTON.

Commissioner.
FRANK SHOWMAN.

Clerk of Courts.
JESSE W. HURSEY.

Infirmary Director.
BURR D. JACKSON.

The Mansfield Shield asks this point question: By the way, aside from talk and bluster, what has Roosevelt done to curb any of the trusts?"

The Democratic party in Ohio this year has a chance to elect the legislature and retire Senator Hanna. The people are ripe to vote that way.

There seems to be a well grounded fear in Republican circles that Mr. Hanna will not be able to buy the next legislature.

A UNITED DEMOCRACY.

Senator Gorman well says that the Democratic party can consistently form a united, harmonious and aggressive party during the coming national campaign in advocacy of at least two great issues—tariff reform and honest government. With a few favored men piling up enormous fortunes at the expense of their less favored fellow-citizens, and with fraud, speculation and loot permeating nearly every department of the national service, the time is ripe for a change. Voters irrespective of previous party affiliations can assist in the housecleaning which has become imperative.

The new French tariff doubles the rate on salted meats, and importers have already begun to petition for reductions, but the deputies hold that it is fair retaliation for American rates on French goods, and that it may force consideration of the French reciprocity treaty. Here is the irony of fate, the revenge time wreaks. Senator Cullom of Illinois, pigeon-holed the French treaty, and Chicago furnishes the bulk of salted meats to France. And so, if England adopts Chamberlain's Zollverein, American farmers will learn the stupidity of upholding a high tariff here. And that oriental open door loses its blandishments abroad when doors are closed here, for prohibitive tariff schedules can close as well as warships.

THE POSTOFFICE SCANDAL.

The Mansfield News, which is edited by W. S. Cappeller, prints the following paragraph.

"George W. Beavers, in the postoffice scandal, has been indicted, and it looks as though the end had been reached."

Now, Mr. Cappeller of Mansfield is not only the editor, but he is also the postmaster of that place. This does not prove that he is prejudiced in a matter touching the postoffice department; it only shows that a man who can and does hold two jobs at one time has a certain versatility of talent.

Why should Editor and Postmaster Cappeller think that "the end has been reached," with the indictment of Beavers? There is every reason to believe that only a small part of the rascality in the postoffice department has been discovered. A number of several sudden and unexpected resignations from the service have not yet been explained. The explanation may come when the official probe goes deeper—Columbus Dispatch.

The Dispatch is a leading Republican paper, whose principal owner is Congressman Gill of the Steubenville district. Gill has been in congress long enough to know something about the curves of editorial postmasters. Friday the Washington City grand jury indicted 17 more postoffice officials and there is no indication of the end being reached yet, much as Postmaster Cappeller may desire it.—Mansfield Shield.

A tactful man can pull the stinger from a bee without getting stung.—Chicago Journal.

LEEDING AND SMALLWOOD TURNED DOWN.

The action of the Republican bosses who manipulated the recent Republican County Convention at Buckeye Lake and turned down such strong party men as candidates for Representative as Robert Leeding and John Smallwood is creating, naturally, a great deal of dissatisfaction throughout the rank and file of the party in the county. Mr. Leeding has been for years one of the wheel horses of the Republican party in Licking county. He made the first break of Republican officials in the court house when he was elected Commissioner over Joseph White some years ago. He has always rendered efficient service to the party and was a logical person for recognition at the hands of the party. Mr. Smallwood, too, is a life long stalwart Republican, and a very popular railroad man. His nomination or that of Mr. Leeding would have been a strong one, but both these men were deliberately turned down at the dictation of the little clique of aspiring young politicians who ran the convention and a man who was comparatively unknown, and certainly whose services to the party could never be mentioned in the same breath as those of Smallwood and Leeding, was slated through. Such is Republican ring rule in Licking county.

Mrs. Mollie Allen, of South Fork, Ky., says she has prevented attacks of cholera morbus by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when she felt an attack coming on. Such attacks are usually caused by indigestion and these Tablets are just what is needed to cleanse the stomach and ward off the approaching attack. Attacks of bilious colic may be prevented in the same way. For sale by all druggists.

DIED

While Protesting His Innocence of the Murder and Demanding a New Trial.

Cosining, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Protesting his innocence, even as the current was turned on declaring "I am innocent I don't know what for I am dying. I must have new trial," Tony Turckofsky, who was convicted of the murder of Saloonkeeper John Schagokshi of No. 76 North Sixth street, Williamsburg, on June last, was electrocuted at the prison here this morning. He died in two minutes.

A CELESTIAL VISITOR.

Borelli's Comet, Which Is Speeding Through the Heavens.

Borelli's twin tailed comet, which for the past four or five weeks has been receiving the attention of astronomers all over the world, is now visible to the naked eye, although its long diaphanous tail is not discernible without the aid of a telescope. Scientists are particularly interested in the remarkable photographic views of the comet which were obtained by the astronomers at the Yale observatory.

The Borelli comet is said by astronomers to be the finest that has been seen in recent years. It was discovered by Borelli, after whom it was named, in Marselles on June 21. Since that time it has increased in brightness about seventeen times and now has the brilliant lance of a star of the third magnitude. The comet is traveling toward the sun at a speed of about five degrees a day. According to the measurements made by the Yale observers, its head is about 500,000 miles in diameter, and its double tail is at least 2,000,000 miles long. The Borelli comet is the only important one seen since eight years ago, when the Rodame was discovered, and is the brightest since Smith's comet, which appeared about twelve years ago. It is now in its most brilliant phase and will gradually begin to grow dim as it approaches the sun. For several weeks, however, it will still be visible. About Aug. 21 it passes the sun at a distance of about 31,000,000 miles.

The photographs taken by the Yale observers show a long tail that is not visible to the naked eye. The negatives also show that the tail is forked, really making two tails. Astronomers say that the comet is passing the earth at a distance of about 20,000,000 miles and is traveling at a speed of twenty-five miles a second.

The comet is in the constellation Draco, half way between the bowl of the little dipper and the handle of the great dipper. At present it is as conspicuous to the naked eye as the brightest star in the dipper, but not so sharp and distinct. It may be identified by its hazy look. An opera glass will show it as a faint streak stretching toward the southeast.

NOTED AS A STATISTICIAN.

Simon N. D. North, the New Director of the Census.

Simon N. D. North, the new director of the census, who succeeded General Merriam on the latter's recent resignation, was the head of the manufactures department of the twelfth census and is regarded as a most accomplished statistician. The selection of Mr. North was in line with civil service reform principles, as he has been prominent in the work of the census bureau for many years.

Mr. North is a native of New York state and began his business career as a reporter on the Utica Herald, eventually becoming editor and part owner of that paper. Subsequently he was connected with the Albany Express. In 1880 he was in charge of the statistics of newspapers for the tenth census and in 1885 completed the taking of the census in New York.

Four years later Mr. North was elected secretary of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers and made a special report on wool and wool manufactures for the eleventh census. Because of his skill as a statistician he was made secretary of the senate committee of finance in 1894, and later President McKinley appointed him a member of the United States industrial commission. In 1899 he was made chief of the census division of manufactures. For a number of years Mr. North has lived in Boston.

THE SLUMP IN STOCKS

Wall Street Situation Summarized by Horace White.

FALL WAS INEVITABLE, HE SAYS

Well Known Writer on Financial Topics Believes Bull Movement Mystified All in the Stock Exchange Until Men Responsible Were Revealed—Then Every One Tried to Buy.

Horace White, a well known New York writer on financial topics, who has a summer cottage at York Harbor, Me., was asked the other evening as to his opinion of the cause of the recent slump in stocks, says the New York Herald.

"Looking back at the bull movement," he said, "which carried prices of securities to such a height that a corresponding fall became inevitable at some time, it will be remembered that Wall street was for a long time completely mystified by it. Nobody knew who was under the market till months afterward. It was eventually discovered that the lifting power was supplied chiefly by J. P. Morgan and J. J. Hill on the one side and by E. H. Harriman and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. on the other.

"The movement began with an attempt on the part of the former to acquire the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad as an annex to the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads by purchases in the open market. That move, though it failed in its main object, supplied a great lifting power to the market. The operators and the public generally, being ignorant of the purposes which lay behind it and not knowing who furnished the steam for it, concluded that it was a sign of general prosperity and hence that it was a good time to buy stocks. So they turned and bought also. It was impossible to boom St. Paul in such a fashion without booming other properties more or less.

"This was only the beginning of the boom, however. When Morgan and Hill found that the control of St. Paul could not be bought in the open market they turned their attention to Burlington and adopted better tactics. They went to the large holders of the stock, mostly Boston men, and negotiated with them. At the same time the buying of Burlington shares was continued on the Stock Exchange.

"The upward movement of the latter excited the suspicion of the Union Pacific people—Harriman, Schiff and others. They soon found out what was in the wind and, as it was too late to prevent Morgan and Hill from getting control of Burlington, they set out to acquire Northern Pacific. The speculators and the public generally were as ignorant of the purposes of the upward movement in Burlington and Northern Pacific as they had been of that of St. Paul. They ascribed these also to the general waste of prosperity and were confirmed in their opinion that it was a good time to buy stocks.

"The word was passed around that you couldn't make a mistake in buying anything. This was really believed by many of the old and most cautious operators on the exchange. Advantage was taken of the speculation craze to launch swindling projects on the credulous investing people or lift prices to an abnormal height in swindles previously launched.

"When the Northern Pacific corner broke the stocks that had been bought at the prevailing prices were mostly in strong hands. They did not fall to their former level, but it was pretty certain that they would do so some time. That time seems to have come.

"The fact that certain railroads of the first rank, such as the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and the Burlington, have negotiated or are seeking vast loans seems to me to be the immediate cause of the recent tumble in prices. Whatever money they take out of the boom market they take from other borrowers, and chiefly from those who are carrying stocks on margins. The banks must take care of their mercantile customers first, and when it becomes necessary to choose between different classes of borrowers they will first call on the speculators to pay up.

"The railroad demands mentioned are deemed essential as being a part of the country's growth, already too long neglected. The general business of the country, too, must be kept going. Those who are carrying more stocks than they can pay for must accordingly suffer if there is really a shortage of loanable funds.

"These are inferences which I draw from reading the course of events in Wall street, but I do not pretend to have any special knowledge."

As to the business outlook of the country generally Mr. White said:

"The general business of the country is in my judgment sound. I think it will not be affected by the decline in stocks."

Leo Sleeps.

Rest came, as to an infant tired with play. Most calm and sweet. Sublimar the repose Of Leo than of other kings whose sway Left marks of blood; for virtue's shining snows.

Falling through busy years, did him invest With reverent distinction, such as grows Upon the eye when, looking down the west.

It sees one sunlit peak outscar the rest. A lion he, but lion steadfastly mild; Fearless and patient through the harried years;

How worn he must have been! His love endears Him to the world. That bier with honors piled Has still a place for our deep grief, our tears.

Sleep on, O Leo, even as a child. —Lawrence McDonald Sarsfield in Pittsburg Dispatch.

A DRAMATIC LAWYER.

Effective Climax That Resulted in Settling a Murderer Free.

Lachaud, the great French advocate, was renowned for deliberate but telling dramatic improvisations, as it were, upon the original theme.

At one time, for instance, he was defending a murderer on Dec. 24. All day long he harassed witnesses, recalling them, causing delay after delay before getting his final address to the jury. It was well on in the evening before he commenced. Then suddenly, at the height of his passionate appeals for the prisoner, the slow, solemn bells of the cathedral next door pealed for the midnight mass—the first mass of Christmas morning. Lachaud stopped as if overwhelmed by a sudden warning.

"Do you hear?" he said solemnly after a moment's silence, and his manner conveyed that all his own glib eloquence had been shattered by the divine interruption of Christ himself. "The Redeemer comes to amend our pitiable endeavors. Which of us would dare now, on this great day of mercy and forgiveness, to condemn another human being and, above all, to condemn one whose culpability is more than doubtful?"

The prisoner was acquitted without the least difficulty, though his death sentence ten minutes before had been regarded as certain. The actual sound of the pealing bells had been too much for nerves already strained to snapping point by the fatigue of a long day's sitting.

But nobody guessed, except the few who knew Lachaud intimately, that he had been maneuvering from the time the court opened in the morning to get that one stirring effect. The prisoner was a dead man without it and saved as certainly if it could be brought off successfully.—Kansas City Independent.

Advice.

A Theological Poser.

An eminent divine, discussing the labor question with a friend, had an interested listener in his little boy. During a pause in the conversation the child said earnestly:

"I suppose, father, that even God has to have workmen to help him to do all he has to do. Are the angels God's workmen?"

The minister, smiling at the child's serious interest in the great question of the day, laid his hand kindly on his son's head and said, "I think they are, my son."

"Father," said the boy, "do you suppose that the angels ever strike?"—New York Times.

Uncle Primus, carrying an armful of groceries, stood outside the gate watching cautiously the movements of two or three yard dogs on the inside. The lady of the house appeared on the front gallery and said: "Come in, Uncle Primus; come in. The dogs won't bite you."

"You must never mock anybody, Bobbie."

"Why not, ma?"

Your Health Depends on Your Kidneys

Every Reader Should Test the Wonderful Merits of this Great New Discovery

IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS

If you wish to be rich in health, you should be careful of your KIDNEYS as a good financier is of his cash capital. Your KIDNEYS are your capital. Your health depends principally on them. If you keep THEM well you may possess your health in safety. Now by this is not meant that good financing for your health is to overlook all the other organs and merely look after your KIDNEYS. Your other organs may need care, but your KIDNEYS most because they do most. If you are sick begin with your KIDNEYS, because just as soon as they are well, they will help all the other organs to health.

For a great many years it has been the custom for people to say: "My blood is out of order, it needs purifying, I feel all used up, my skin needs clearing, my Brain feels tired." They are right, but do they act right? They generally go and get a laxative to purify their blood; but does blood run through the bowels?

Science proves that all the purifying that your blood needs, in fact all that can be done, must be done by your KIDNEYS. The KIDNEYS are filters. They strain and purify your blood. When your blood is impure nothing can purify but your KIDNEYS. When the KIDNEYS are clogged from overwork of any kind, worry, exposure or excesses, they can be set right by that wonderful new remedy known as IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS. They are a small wafer and pleasant to take. They are not a patent medicine or secret remedy, and the formula is cheerfully furnished to the numerous physicians who prescribe them in their practice, recognizing the efficiency of their ingredients, such as Buchu, Juniper Berries, Asparagus, and other valuable and purely vegetable extracts, which are so concentrated as to make them more than double their value.

Reception Gown of Primrose Gauze.

A beautiful reception gown is of primrose gauze, cut décollete. A novel bodice trimming consists of graduated bands of black velvet ribbon, which also appears on the elbow sleeves.

Shirring, done to deep hip-yoke depth which is now so popular, being especially effective on thin goods, adds much to the beauty of this gown, which beauty is further augmented by the use of Corticelli sewing silk in the same shade as the goods. The graduated bands of velvet on the skirt, corresponding with those on the waist, complete a most charming creation.

GRANVILLE

Budget of Up to AdTe News from the College Town—A Few Personal and News Items.

Granville, O., Aug. 3.—The many friends of Miss Susan M. Moore, who recently resigned from Shepardson college conservatory to accept a position at Morgantown, W. Va., will be pleased to learn that she is pleasantly located in her new home and already actively engaged in planning her new work. She writes that a greater contrast cannot be conceived that that existing between Morgantown and Granville. The one "so rich, pushing, spreading," the other so quiet and reposeful, and that there will be a even greater difference in the character of her own work. Fourteen years she was at the head of the piano department at Shepardson college, a position she filled conscientiously, efficiently and gracefully. Indeed it is not too much to say that in the rank of Shepardson's many efficient instructors, no one has enjoyed a more deserved popularity, both in school and town than has Miss Moore, and no one has ever departed accompanied by more sincere regrets and hearty good will. Both Miss Moore and her mother will always find a hearty welcome awaiting them at Granville, and the good wishes of the entire community attend them wherever they go.

On Sunday morning, owing to the absence of Dr. C. J. Baldwin, Mr. Van Winkle ably filled the pulpit of the Baptist church. During the service Miss Wallen of Michigan, rendered several beautiful violin solos, which were greatly appreciated by those interested in fine music. In the afternoon Miss Wallen, accompanied on the organ by Miss Martha Roberts, played before an audience of Granville friends and her music was greatly enjoyed.

On Saturday evening Miss Wartenbee entertained a few friends in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spielman of Ironton.

Miss Helen Baldwin, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is rapidly recovering.

Mrs. A. N. Lyon and daughter, Marie of Bucyrus, spent Sunday in Granville. Miss Emma Wilson of Columbus, who has been visiting here for the past week, returned home Monday morning after having had a very pleasant visit.

REUNION

Of the Priest Family at Idlewild Park.
Election of Officers—The Fifth Reunion.

The fifth annual reunion of the Priest family was held at Idlewild Park last Saturday and the day was spent in a most enjoyable manner, the attendance being the best at any former reunion.

At the business meeting it was decided to hold the next reunion the first Saturday in August, 1904, at Idlewild Park, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Willis Priest, Fallsburg.
Treasurer, George Demorest, Columbus.

Secretary, A. L. Priest, Johnstown.
Committee on entertainment, speeches, etc., Manville and Nellie Priest of Johnstown and A. J. Demorest of Fallsburg.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Home of Swamp-Root, Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

COL. CLEM

And the Effort Made to Bribe Him—Fellow Made a Sad Mistake in His Man.

The Advocate a few days ago published a Washington dispatch telling of the effort made to bribe Colonel John Clem the former Newark boy, who became famous by reason of his service in the Union army. Monday's Ohio State Journal has this to say of the incident:

Somebody tried the other day to bribe "Johnnie" Clem, known throughout Ohio and the country as the Drummer boy of Shiloh. Columbus people know without being told what would be the result of such an attempt to smirch the honor of the jolly little man who toddled into the Union army almost before he was in trousers and stuck it out to the end of the war. But the incident is worth recounting.

Colonel Clem is in charge of the commissary department of the United States army at a Texas post. One day he received a box of cigars. Not knowing from whom it came, he opened it. There lay the card of a fellow with a very large ax to grind, and beneath it a hundred-dollar bill.

The United States treasury contains $103 more than it did before that box of cigars was delivered. The war deposited that sum with the rest. The fellow who made a mistake in his man will never secure an army contract as long as Colonel Clem lives.

But it is sad to reflect that any man, however ignorant or depraved, would dare so brazenly to seek to bribe an officer of the army of the United States. The suspicion that it succeeds sometimes is almost inevitable.

J. J. HILL

Retires After Twelve Years of Service on the County Board of Elections. The New Member.

As was noted in a previous edition of the Advocate Secretary of State Laylin, upon the recommendation of the Democratic County Executive Committee, has appointed Mr. Harvey Orr of Bowling Green township, to succeed Mr. James J. Hill as one of the Democratic members of the County Board of Elections. Mr. Orr is an excellent man for the position in every way. A thorough Democratic, and an honest, capable man, he will discharge the important duties of his office impartially and without fear or favor. Mr. Hill has served in this important capacity as one of the Democratic members of the Board ever since the Board was created, a period of twelve years. It goes without saying that Mr. Hill has made an ideal member of the Board in every respect, and he has made a record in that capacity second to none in the state. Gifted with strong common sense and an innate sense of justice and right, Mr. Hill has also that judicial cast of mind which is so essential to the discharge of the duties of this semi-judicial position. He has given excellent satisfaction from first to last as a member of the Board, and is entitled to the gratitude and thanks of the public for the able and honorable manner in which he has filled the duties of the responsible position.

The County Board consists of Messrs. C. L. Flory (D.), Harvey Orr (D.), W. H. Neff (R.) and Arthur Wyeth (R.). R. W. Howard is the clerk.

NINETEEN

Hurt in a Pan Handle Wreck Near Hartford City, Ind., Sunday Night in a Dense Fog.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 3.—Nineteen people were injured in a head end collision last night on the Pan Handle railroad near here. An eastbound passenger train ran into a westbound freight train. The freight had broken in two and was delayed. A flagman was sent ahead to flag the passenger train but he was not seen on account of a dense fog. George Rowe, engineer on the freight train, was most seriously injured, one of his feet being cut off. None of the passengers was badly hurt.

LABOR DAY

MT. VERNON EXPECTS A BIG CROWD FROM NEWARK.

Meeting Held There Monday Night to Begin Arrangements for the Big Celebration.

Mt. Vernon, O., Aug. 3.—Mt. Vernon will have a big Labor Day celebration on Monday September 7. Secretary Charles Cooper of the Mt. Vernon Trades' council has received communications from Newark and Mansfield stating that all the labor organizations in those two cities would join with Mt. Vernon and send big delegations to this city on Labor Day.

It is now up to the local Trades council and the citizens of Mt. Vernon to make the day a grand success. Towards that end the Trades' council has called a meeting for tonight in the Daughters of St. George hall when the preliminary steps will be taken toward the grand celebration.

All delegates and ex-delegates of the council are urged to be present and at the same time all merchants and other persons of the city are asked to attend as the meeting will be open and anyone having a suggestion will be given permission to talk.

The members of the Trades' council are very anxious that the Labor Day celebration will be the largest in the history of the city and for that reason much interest should be taken and the meeting on Monday evening should be largely attended. Mansfield and Newark will send large crowds to the city on Labor Day and it is desire of the local Trades' Council and the labor unions to give them a royal welcome.

NOTICE TO CARPENTERS.

All members of Local Union 136 are hereby notified to go to Mitchell & Vanatta and get measured for their Labor Day suits. Please attend to this at once. George Green, President. B. A. Jones, R. S. 7-31-31.

BLACK HAND EXCURSION.

On account of Soldiers' Annual Reunion and Picnic August 6, the B. & O. will sell excursion tickets Newark to Black Hand, rate of 30c for the round trip. Trains leave Newark at 8:10 a. m. and 12:30 noon. Prominent speakers will attend.

According to Dun Index the value of articles used by an average person in the United States during the last year, if bought at wholesale, was $98.83. The year before it was $101.31. These figures correspond closely to those of 188 and 1889. Two years ago the amount was $91.50.

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. Its sufferers eat and because they want to, but simply because they must. They know they are eatable and fretful; but they cannot be otherwise. IN A BODY

NEWARK POLICE FORCE ATTENDED CHURCH.

Officers Were Headed by Mayor Crilly. Large Congregation Present—Outline of the Sermon.

The entire city police force and crossing watchmen under command of Chief James Sheridan and Captain William Howard attended the First Methodist church Sunday morning in a body and listened to a strong discourse by the pastor, Rev. L. C. Sparks.

Every member of the force was dressed in his new uniform, which were recently completed by Feeney & Schiffer, the tailors. The uniforms are not and well fitting and the men made a fine showing. Chief Sheridan's uniform is different from what has been generally worn, the coat being a tight fitting sack with concealed buttons. It is made of a fine blue colored cloth and is the prettiest uniform ever worn by a Newark officer.

Mayor A. J. Crilly was also present and the following patrolmen attended the service: Robert Zergiebel, Robert Bell, A. J. Sutton, John Scott, Patrick Carroll, James Callan, Charles Burke, Charles Swank, A. McClatchey, Chas. Jager, C. L. Brooke, Herbert Atherton, James McCrum, Samuel Schnaidd.

The pastor, Mr. Sparks, took for his text Proverbs 29:18: "Where there is no vision, the people perish." The preacher said: "Dreams are unrealistic, vagaries of the mind, but visions are perceptions of truth, which if rightly acted upon produce uprightness of character. When there are no ideals no visions, nations as well as individuals perish." Mr. Sparks dwelt upon three great forces, each of which seem to many to be the supreme end of life, "Money, education, love," but declared that "the supreme vision of men was character, the struggle up the heights of perfection of life."

He said, "The nation that has for its ideal mere money getting dies because the vision being distorted that nation loses the vision of the higher things and perishes. Power in any form that has for its end a sordid character has in it the elements of destruction. Equality, fraternity, liberty, justice, what marvelous visions of perfection are wrapped up in these watchwords of our nation."

"They are not as yet realized in their perfection, but we must ever keep the ideal before us if our nation is to fulfill the great destiny God has in store for it. Do you want anarchy, lynching, riot? then let the courts of justice become corrupt, the law be unenforced; let those in authority be men without vision and all these things will surely come to pass. "The corruption in our great American cities—Philadelphia, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Chicago and New York. What is it but a loss of vision, the creeping in of low ideals, the losing of the thought of serving others by those in authority. Low ideals mean low living.

"The man who thinks that in his business it is necessary to be a trickster will degenerate into a trickster. Spain lost her ideals and with them the loss of her ancient glory and power. America has had a vision. Our future is to be determined by her living up to that vision. Our safety lies in the equality of our citizenship. Enforcement of law will depend upon the estimate we place on virtue."

DISPLAY

In Powers-Miller Company's Window is Attracting Much Attention—To be Changed Daily.

The display in the east window of the Powers-Miller company is attracting a great amount of attention. The display represents a picnic scene and is the work of the skilled window draper, Mr. Frank Link.

In one end of the window is a summer girl in a rowboat while nearer the shore a little girl is enjoying the surf. On a settee is represented a scene familiar to many Newark people who visit summer resorts. Behind a huge umbrella is a man seated in close proximity to a young lady. Close by is the chaperon dressed in gray, and gazing intently at the beauties of the sea before her. Other figures are in the display. A number of lunch baskets are in the window.

Mr. Link is preparing to do great things with the picnic party. He intends to allow the entire party to go latching. Soon he promises to open the lunch baskets and has planned to change the scene every day.

The imitation sea, the grass, stone wall and beach are works of art and the draper deserves great credit for the appearance of the window.

The west window is filled with articles from the basement of the big store. As advertised a special reduction is being made this week on articles in this department of the store.

GIRLS

AT THE DELAWARE HOME DRESS IN STYLE.

Practice of Compelling Them to Wear Uniform Aprons Has Been Abandoned by New Management.

Delaware, O., Aug. 3.—The new management of the State Girls' Industrial Home concluded the midsummer picnic festivities with a fireworks display.

Over 350 pupils of the institution, 100 assistant matrons and officers of the Home, besides 10 specially invited guests, composed of Probate Judges of Ohio counties and others, witnessed the display.

The girls were dressed in holiday attire. The practice of compelling every girl to wear a uniform apron has been discontinued. Are all clad in stylish, pretty dresses exactly like the well-bred and well-dressed girls between the 9 and 18 years of age who may be seen about any city on any festive occasion.

This is an innovation of the new superintendent, E. J. Brown, and the matron, his wife.

The inauguration of the current fashion dress for the girls is well received by them. They regard it as a great compliment, and feel that they are not robbed in the garb of a criminal before the eyes of those who visit the institution.

Much of the Reception Committee Saturday was made up of girls from the institution, and in the receiving line they made a very impressive sight, dressed as they were in fashion's latest garb, but in all its simplicity.

Many changes were made in the administrative force of the Home since the exposure of the case in which a girl, while being punished, died in the straitjacket.

Erin's Hall of Fame

PLEASE give me," said the teacher, as she rubbed her tired eyes. "The names of some great Irishmen, my dears."

And when a hand waved frantically she noticed with surprise. The grimy paw was Jimmie McAleer's. 'Twas something new for Jimmie to be interested when a question was before the house, and so:

"Well, Jimmie," said the teacher, "name your famous Irishmen."

He proudly answered: "Here's a few I know:

"McGiniffy and Hogan, Mike Kelly, Dicky Cogan, Jim Collins, Wild Bill Donovan and Ryan; McGill and McIntyre, Spike Shannon and McGuire, McCarthy, Dolan Daly and O'Brien; Jiggs Donohue, McBride, Waddell, the Phibes' pride; McFarland, Muggs, McGraw and B. McGuirk; Maloney, Grady, Lally, Jack Sullivan, O'Malley, Pat Flaherty, J. Hanley, Eddie Burke; McCormick and McConnell, McGinley, McNamara and McGann; Hugh Duff and McManus; McFall, McKee, McCracken, McQuinn, McQuinn and McManus and McManus."

"Why, Jimmie," cried the teacher, "just wait a moment, please! What did those folks you mention ever do?"

How is it that you didn't give me any names like these? Tom Moore, Parnell and Robert Emmet too?"

"Gee whizz!" exclaimed the urchin. "I never seen dem guys; I named de warst members in de mess."

De fellers you are boosin' fer can't be so very wise. Dey must ave played in some bush league, I guess."

Not Alarming. "I really feel worried about my husband, he is getting so absent minded," said a young wife to her dearest girl friend.

"Tell me about it, dear," said the friend sympathetically.

"Well, he came home from business very late the other evening, and I heard him talking in the hall."

"To himself?" asked the friend suspiciously.

"No, indeed?"

"Not the cook?"

"No, should say not! What an idea! No; when I went down I found him with a feather duster in his hand, and would you believe it—the poor fellow was trying to make it say 'Polly want a biscuit!'—Judy."

All He Received Was Advice. "Sir, I have made up my mind to ask you for the hand of your daughter. Will you give it to me?"

"You honor me, young man, but the only thing I can at present give you is a little advice. Never make up your mind. Its existence is so extremely doubtful that a little makeup completely disguises it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"THREE TON DRUM MAJOR." Donald McCormick, the tall Scotch-Canadian who carries the drum major's staff at the head of the Klitties band, is known among his friends as the "three ton drum major." It happened this way: "While standing as usual on guard at the door of the now Coliseum in Chicago (where the Klitties played to over 10,000 people on Thanksgiving Day, 1900) a curious and long-winded bystander walked up and shouted up to Donald:

"What is your height?"

"About seven feet," quietly replied the giant.

"Well, well; and how much do you weigh?"

"Three-ton," came the answer.

"Three ton!" shouted the excited man with the beard. "Six thousand pounds! That seems almost impossible!"

And it was only when the hundred people who stood around the door had started to laugh that the man with the credulous mind saw that he had blundered.

All eyes will be on the "three ton" drum major when the Klitties band appears at Idlewild park next Friday and Saturday, Aug. 7 and 8.

MORE REAL BAND MUSIC. Among the numerous characteristics which have secured popularity for the Great Wallace Show is its musical department. Its several bands are not "wind jammers," and creators of noise, but they play strains of popular melody and classical music so as to favor the patrons of the circus with a high-class musical entertainment.

Professor C. Z. Bronson's Concert Band of 28 artist musicians are capable of entertaining the most critical audience. So far superior is Bronson's concert band to the ordinary traveling show brass bands that it is remarked upon by novices as well as by musicians. For 45 minutes preceding the two performances to be given in Newark, Thursday, August 20, Bronson's concert band will play a grand high-class program of eight numbers. It is advisable that patrons of the Wallace circus should go early so as to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing a musical treat free of any extra charge.

ADAMSVILLE

Coming to the Front With Romantic Marriages—A New One—Love at First Sight.

Adamsville is getting famous for romantic weddings. The marriage of a father and daughter to a mother and son respectively, at that place was detailed in these columns a few days ago. Announcement is made now of the marriage of Garret A. Dayton, a very well known resident of that neighborhood, to Miss Cora Belle Donaldson.

The romantic part of this wedding is that although there is a great disparity in the ages of the contracting parties the groom being 53 and the bride 23, it was a case of love at first sight.

Mr. Dayton met Miss Donaldson but three weeks at the home of a mutual friend, each little dreaming when they went to that home they were to meet their respective fates. But there was one of those instantaneous love affairs followed by an announcement of the engagement and the wedding was solemnized Sunday.

More Practiced. "I would give the world to make you happy," said the romantic young man.

"Never mind about the world," said the level headed lass; "just you make sure of $25 a week, with reasonable prospect of promotion."—San Francisco Examiner.

Rheumatism Is Not a Skin Disease.

Most people have an idea that rheumatism is contracted like a cold, that the damp, chilly air penetrates the muscles and joints and causes the terrible aches and pains, or that it is something like a skin disease to be rubbed away with liniment or drawn out with plasters; but Rheumatism originates in the blood and is caused by Urea, or Uric Acid, an irritating, corroding poison that settles in muscles, joints and nerves, producing inflammation and soreness and the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to this distressing disease.

Exposure to bad weather or sudden chilling of the body will hasten an attack of Rheumatism after the blood and system are in the right condition for it to develop, but have nothing to do with the real true causes of Rheumatism, which are internal and not external.

Liniments, plasters and rubbing will sometimes reduce the inflammation and swelling and ease the pain for a time, but fail to relieve permanently because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it attacks it in the blood, and the Uric Acid poison is neutralized, the sluggish circulation stimulated and quickened, and soon the system is purified and cleansed, the aching muscles and joints are relieved of all irritating matter and a lasting cure of this most painful disease effected.

S. S. S. is a harmless vegetable remedy, unequalled as a blood purifier and an invigorating, pleasant tonic. Book on Rheumatism will be mailed free.

PROGRESS BEING MADE ON NEW ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

Fire in Shed Near B. & O. Round House—Shortage of Men—Local and General News.

Rapid progress is being made on the new electric light plant being installed in the B. & O. shops and yards at this point, and when complete will be one of the most complete plants along the line of the B. & O. railroad. The plant will have a capacity of 700 incandescent and 60 arc lights.

Sunday Fire.

A fire broke out in the shaving shed near the B. & O. round house on Sunday afternoon which for a time threatened to end in a serious conflagration. The fire, however, was quickly extinguished by the prompt work of the fire department and the employees of the shops. The shed in which shavings are stored in some manner unknown and was almost entirely consumed.

New Turn Table.

Rapid progress is being made on the work of constructing the new turn table for the B. & O. railroad at this point.

Shortage of Men.

There is a shortage of men at the B. & O. shops, owing to the fact that a great many of the men are out squirrel hunting. No great killings have been reported.

Fine New Station.

Work has begun on the new station to be constructed by the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroads in Washington, and it is claimed that it will be the most magnificent structure of this kind in the United States, costing upwards of fourteen millions of dollars. There will be nothing, in fact, to parallel it in the world. The Gould interest, as well as two or three other trunk lines, will co-operate in the new station, and they will represent a total mileage of about 14,000. The terminal is to be free to all railroads, and it will be impossible to shut out any line that desires to enter, subject to general conditions. The decorative features will conform to those of the public buildings in Washington.

The B. & O. railroad has let the contract for the Washington terminal improvement at a bid of over $2,000,000.

The Pennsylvania railroad company will install a system of signals on its eastern division which will cost at least $200,000.

The month of July this year was a record breaker for traffic on all railroads. Traffic men state that figures to be given out in a few days will show an average increase of about 24 per cent over any previous July. There has been no special movement of any kind. The mammoth increase has been due strictly to general trade, which has swelled each month since January.

TWO GREAT GAMES PLAYED AT THE PARK.

Newark Won Both from Lancaster—Saturday's Contest Finest Ever Seen in the City.

In the greatest baseball game probably ever played in Newark, the Idlewild team defeated Lancaster by a score of 2 to 1, before a good Saturday afternoon crowd.

The score would indicate that the game was close, but it does not show the game as it really was. It cannot convey any idea of the tense excitement that filled every moment of play, nor can it show the wild scene of pandemonium in the last half of the ninth when, with Tommy Francis on second, Frech on first, and McAllister at the bat, the latter sent a screaming single into right field and the brilliant Idlewild shortstop scampered across the plate with the winning run.

The game had to be seen to be appreciated. "Lefty" Snyder was pitted against "Davy" Carpenter and it was a royal pitchers' battle between these two high class twirlers.

Both went through inning after inning with a wobble of any sort, keeping the hits well scattered and working as steadily as pieces of clock mechanism. Not a base on balls marred Snyder's record, and he struck out nine of the opposing batsmen. The only run scored by Lancaster was in the second inning and was made by Hayes who was really struck out. Francis let the third strike escape him and Hayes was safe at first. He started to steal second and Art threw wild to catch him, the runner going to third. The infield then closed in for the runner, but Green made a hit past pitcher which Frech made a desperate effort to stop, but could not reach, Hayes scoring.

Scott was the first Idlewild player to score. He got a life on Heller's error in the fifth, and scored on Snyder's two base hit.

In the ninth the visitors were quickly retired, Purtell making the most sensational catch of a line hit at third that was ever seen on the grounds. He was completely turned around by the force of the ball, but held on. He was cheered for fully a minute, for the great play and he deserved it.

Idlewild came in for their last turn, needing one run to win. Tommy Francis, one of the best inside men in the business, worked Carpenter for the only base on balls given during the game. The Lancaster twirler became unsteady and hit Frech. McAllister came to the bat, and the second ball pitched to him he cracked into right field. The game was won, Francis scoring easily from second, while his team mates and the crowd which poured off the bleachers almost hugged him in a delirium of joy.

It was a grand finale to one of the greatest exhibitions of baseball ever seen in Newark. The score:

Sunday's Game.

Before the largest crowd that has yet attended a game of baseball at Idlewild Park this season, the Idlewild team defeated Lancaster for the second time in two days, thus demonstrating to the satisfaction of every one attended, the superiority of the local team over the strong aggregation representing Fairfield county.

The game Sunday was another cleanly played contest abounding in sensational pieces of fielding in which the home team had their share.

"Scotty" the blonde haired left fielder for Idlewild, made three catches that were beauties, two of them coming at critical stages of the game. Tommy Francis ran over behind Barr and picked up a grounder that the pitcher had deflected from its course, throwing the runner out at first. Purtell at third accepted several difficult chances, while Art Francis played a perfect game behind the bat.

For Lancaster F. Locke, Murray, Heller and Sickles played brilliantly, and were given a hand for their good work.

Art Barr was on the slab for the home team and pitched a masterly game, allowing his opponents only four hits, two of them going over the short right field fence for two base hits. He was as cool as an iceberg and never faltered when the home team bunched all three of their errors and Lancaster made her lone tally. He also fielded his position in faultless style and cracked out a timely single.

Idlewild made a run in the first inning on Art Francis' two bagger and Frech's single. In the sixth by bunching three hits, an attempted sacrifice which rolled safe and Heller's error the home team scored four runs and after that there was nothing to it but Idlewild.

The winning of two games from Lancaster which team has defeated Urbana, Piqua and Zanesville, the standing of the Idlewild team is assured. The score of Sunday's game follows:

J. W. GATES

PRACTICALLY RETIRES FROM ACTIVE WORK.

Health is Failing and Even the Race Tracks Do Not Attract Him—In Constant Pain.

Saratoga, Aug. 3.—Stories of a most alarming nature, and of apparent truth are told of the state of the health of John W. Gates, who is now here with his family. From time to time during the last year it has been said that Mr. Gates was not well, but soon as the stories were told they were denied. Now his friends do not deny that Gates is far from being the robust man he was when he first became known in Wall street. And it is his health instead of financial reverses that has kept him out of the market of late.

His face is drawn and his body is amaciated to such an extent that the most casual observer, remarks upon his loss of flesh.

"Mr. Gates," said his friend, "is a very ill man, and no one recognizes the fact better than he does himself. He is now taking much better care of himself than ever before in his life, but he continues to fail, and I do not believe that he expects any permanent relief. He has a bad case of diabetes, and he is also a sufferer from chronic dysentery. He is in constant pain, which accounts somewhat for the change in his appearance which has so shocked his friends."

"Since he first fell ill about nine months ago Mr. Gates lost 60 pounds in weight. The effect has been to weaken him greatly, and unless he has a turn for the better in the near future he will give up all attempts to attend to business affairs of any sort."

"Those who expected Mr. Gates to be a prominent figure on the race track and in the betting ring at Saratoga this year are to be disappointed. He has not sufficient strength left to carry him once through the ring as he went last year. More than that, he is under instructions from a physician not to excite himself unnecessarily. So ill is he that he now travels with a physician in his company all of the time, and at night he is practically under the care of the physician and a trained nurse. It is at night that he suffers the most. He sleeps little, and his trouble seems to be aggravated as soon as he lies down. I believe that you may safely say that Mr. Gates has permanently retired from all active business, and I fear that a view even more pessimistic may be taken of his condition."

PEOPLE WHO CAN'T SLEEP.

Many people go to bed—not to sleep, but to think—to tumble and toss—to get up, walk about until tired Nature gives way and a few fitful hours of sleep are obtained just before dawn—a sleep that does not rest—a sleep from which one wakes weary and tired, wholly unfitted to take up the daily routine of household, shop or office duties. That condition goes on uncorrected for is almost criminal, when the well known, time-tried and tested powers of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to give restful, natural sleep have been so fully proven in such cases.

Mrs. W. Bates of 1434 South Sixth street, Newark, Ohio, says:—"Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I know are excellent, because they made my nerves steady—gave me strength and good restful sleep, three things I needed badly. Their action was rapid and more than satisfactory, and I am right glad in the face of the fine result I obtained that C. T. Bricker, druggist, called my attention to the medicine." Few of the French colonies are self-supporting. The burden of administering their affairs has been constantly increasing. The cost of the colonies has grown from $5,600,000 in 1876 to $22,400,000 in 1903. The greater part of this expenditure—$14,000,000—was for military.

Women Scullers.

Feminine Aquatic Stars to Again Row for the World's Championship.

The third race for the world's sculling championship of the women will be rowed on Creve Coeur lake, near St. Louis, during the month of August, according to arrangements recently completed between St. Louis promoters and Miss Tillie Ashley, who has been claiming the title of woman champion.

Miss Ashley has already been thrice beaten by Miss Rose Mosenheim of St. Louis, who is the legitimate holder of the championship. In an interview Miss Mosenheim stated that Miss Ashley had no claim to the title whatever, but that she would be willing to meet Miss Ashley at short notice when the plans of John J. Schaub and others in making the match were completed. It is claimed in some parts of the country that Miss Ashley is a much improved oarswoman since Miss Mosenheim defeated her and that a race between the two would show up the eastern woman to advantage. Miss Ashley lives at Hartford, Conn., and is constantly on the water.

The race, if arranged, will be one of few instances in sport where really capable oarswomen have contested. In all the world there are at present probably not half a dozen women who make professional claims to skill at single sculls.

Of all sports possible to femininity rowing is perhaps one least in accord with the possibilities of woman's supposed characteristics. It requires not only strength, constant practice, fearlessness and determination, but stamina.

Miss Ashley tells her own story of her experiences as follows:

"Have you ever sat in a single scull? 'If you haven't you should. When you first get into one you feel as though you were trying to sit on top of a bubble of quicksilver. A single scull is little more than a line. It is about sixteen inches wide at its greatest beam and is something in the neighborhood of thirty feet long. It is very shallow and would upset in a minute if it were not in motion or balanced by an experienced hand at the oars."

"Riding a bicycle for the first time may be compared to your first experience in a shell, only the bicycle does not offer the same element of danger. Before trying a single scull it is necessary to know how to swim."

"The best oarsmen in the world sometimes get upset if the water happens to be bad. Since I first got into a single scull I have had good fortune. That was eight years ago on Creve Coeur lake and I have never been in the water from an upset yet."

"Of course I had been rowing all my life before that. I was perfectly at home in the water and was not nervous, therefore, as to what would happen if I were upset. I went at it with confidence."

"One of my rowing club friends asked me to get into his shell one day as a joke and was somewhat frightened when I took him up. At first it was awkward. The long outriggers for the oars, instead of the outriggers I had been used to, the long light oars with the spoon blades and the extreme lightness of the boat were very strange.

"I caught a few crabs at the start, but I was careful not to work hard, so that when I missed a stroke I did not shoot back and sway the boat. The sliding seat made matters worse until I caught the swing of it. It seemed to diminish the resistance to my stroke until I found that there was a real positive advantage accruing from it."

WALKED TWO MILES

To a Physician's House, Carrying a Severed Arm in His Hand.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 3.—Tony Cassino, an Italian contractor living in New York, who has the contract for grading 10 miles of the N. & W. extension in McDowell County, horrified a crowd of 100 excursionists at Welch yesterday by walking up the railroad track toward the station carrying his right arm, which had been cut off at the shoulder, in his left hand. He carried the severed member, swinging it by the hand as though it was an ordinary walking stick. His body was so badly covered with blood that he was hardly recognizable. Cassino had fallen beneath a freight train before daylight two miles west of Welch and his arm was cut off. He picked up his lost arm and walked calmly to Welch, the nearest physician living at that point. He refused an opiate while the doctors were dressing his wounds. Women on the street and at the station fainted at sight of him.

STILL WATER

Will Run the "Buoyantic" Engine—A Wonder, It is Said.

Wausau, Wis., Aug. 3.—George Partillo, a mill and factory architect has invented a device which he styles a buoyantic engine, which, if what he claimed for it is true, will work a revolution in the industrial world, furnishing as it will, power at a cost so small that the expense of operation will be practically nothing.

The machine is termed a buoyantic engine from the fact that it derives its power from buoyancy, the same force that would bring to the surface of a body of water with its broadest side exposed a board that had with seemingly no resistance been immersed edgewise. This is the principle upon which this new engine works. Through the use of air chambers, with automatic opening and closing devices and application of these to the above principle, he has perfected an engine which will derive enough energy from still water to run as long as it is partly submerged.

By sea San Francisco is farther from New York than it is from Liverpool.

nals were sent into the Camerino, who does as he thinks best about delivering them. Some of the Catholic newspapers, also, were sent in, but no nonclerical papers.

The number of telegrams for Cardinals Herro y Espinosa and Langelux, who are ill, was so great that they made a large package.

The Spanish students, who are anxious about the condition of Cardinal Herrero, asked Dr. Lapponi through wicket how he was, and the doctor replied that he was a little better, but still confined to his bed, and that the condition of Cardinal Cretoni was unchanged. It is understood that the latter did not wish to participate in the conclave, but was almost forced to do so. He is now filled with doubts as to whether he should give a vote, being afflicted with a sort of mania that he is unworthy to interpret the Divine will by casting his vote for anyone.

Cardinal Gotti, as far as is known, is the only one of the Cardinals who has not made some complaint about his cell. Being a monk, he would consider demands for comfort against his notions of austerity. To a member of the Noble Guard who wished him success Cardinal Gotti merely replied: "Thank you, but I shall not be made Pope."

Several attempts to establish communication with the conclave have been discovered and some suspicious lights have been seen waving in the cells of several of the Cardinals, which were interpreted as signals. They were immediately reported to the Camerino by the marshal and extra precautions were provided to prevent repetition of the occurrence. Conventional signals for communication, codes, etc., have all failed to the present.

The conclusion is universal that the strength of the leading candidate remains unbroken and that no compromise candidate has yet appeared. There is no indication of how long this condition of affairs will continue. The prolongation of the contest has aroused tremendous public interest, if, indeed, it cannot be called excitement. Every trace of that apathy which followed the death of the late Pope has vanished and instead there now exists a burning interest in everything pertaining to the election of his successor. This culminated in the appearance of the great crowd in the great square of St. Peter's.

The scene last night was the most impressive that has been witnessed in Rome since the late Pope became ill. After the fruitless morning ballot, a belie spread that a new Pontiff would surely be elected during the evening. All roads during the afternoon therefore, led to the Vatican. Carriages and vehicles of every description rattled into the piazza of St. Peter's. The streets converging into St. Peter's piazza became black with the thousands who entered the square. From the barracks came large reinforcements of troops who lined up at the foot of the steps of the basilica, leaving only small spaces between the companies in order to prevent a sudden rush to get inside St. Peter's to witness the new Pope give his blessing to the Catholic world in case of an election.

A strong force of cavalry was picketed near by, in case of riot. More than 2000 soldiers were posted in the square. The troops made only a thin blue line, compared with the vast multitude around them. By 5 o'clock it was estimated that 50,000 people occupied the amphitheatre. From the steps of the basilica, which were black with those standing or sitting across to the opposite side of the square, stretched as far as the eye could see, an undulating sea of humanity with every face riveted on the Sistine chapel, waiting for the smoke of the ballots. Stretching away, a distance from which it would have been impossible to see the smoke were other thousands waiting to know the result.

Suddenly, exactly at 6:40 p. m. a sharp cry arose, "Ecco, Ecco."

Instantly the cry was taken up by 50,000 throats and grew until the piazza roared with "Ecco, Ecco, La Fu-nata."

Then silence fell like a spell, while the thousands watched the tiny stream of smoke curl lazily from the Sistine chapel.

IN THE TEMPLE

Aged Couple Met, and Were Married Within an Hour.

Salt Lake, Utah, Aug. 3—Azariah Smith, 75 years of age, who came here from Boylestown, Oswego county, N. Y., and Mrs. Sevilla McGowan, 71, a native of Brownsville, Pa., proved yesterday that age cannot take away the possibilities of love at first sight by being principals in the most hasty marriage on record in the Mormon temple. The aged couple met by chance at the Tabernacle. They were introduced in 20 minutes Mr. Smith had proposed. He argued the question with Mrs. McGowan for 20 minutes more, and before the next 20 minutes had expired Smith had secured a license and the ceremony was performed in the temple by President McAllister.

The scene last night was the most impressive that has been witnessed in Rome since the late Pope became ill. After the fruitless morning ballot, a be-

X RAY

Thos. A. Edison Says They Mean Death to Anyone Who Continually Using the Apparatus.

Orange, N. J., Aug. 3—Thomas A. Edison, the inventor says that the X Ray has no commercial value because it means death to anyone who continually uses it and that he has abandoned researches in the line of commercial utility for X-rays. Said Mr. Edison: "No, I don't want to know anything more about X-rays. In the hands of experienced operators they are a valuable adjunct to surgery, locating as they do, objects concealed from view and making, for instance, the operation for appendicitis almost sure. But they are dangerous, deadly, in the hands of the inexperienced, or even in the hands of the man who is using them continuously for experiment."

One of the victims of X-Rays referred to by Mr. Edison is Clarence Dally who has operated the X-rays for Mr. Edison for several years. Dally was a strong, healthy young man, but today he is a physical wreck. Cancer broke out on both arms, one of which was amputated, and four fingers of the other hand had to be removed. His face is wrinkled and his hair has fallen out.

SUPPLIES

For Big Camp of Soldiers are Beginning to Arrive—Camp Will Open Here August 17.

Two car loads of camp supplies arrived at the camp ground, Sunday, the freight cars being taken over the Newark & Granville tracks to the grounds, by the work motor from Hebron which will be used for the purpose during the coming camp.

It is estimated by the management of the Newark & Granville road that between the 14th inst. and the opening of the camp on the 17th, they will handle from 25 to 30 car loads of stuff for the camp grounds.

LEADER

For Auditorium Orchestra the Coming Season, Will be Charles Smith, Well Known Here.

Mr. Charles Smith who led the orchestra at Idlewild Park last season, arrived in Newark Monday afternoon, having been secured by Mr. Fred Mosteller to lead the Auditorium orchestra the coming season. The orchestra will consist of the same members as last year, except Mr. Smith who will take the place of Mr. Otto Meyer.

CONTRACT LET

The contract for the superstructure of the new iron bridge to be constructed across the South Fork of the Licking river, connecting the Franklin and Wehrle additions, was awarded by the County Commissioners on Monday afternoon to the Cham Bridge company of Wilmington, O., for $3,100, and the masonry was awarded to S. J. White, of this city at $5.67 per cubic yard.

Do not fail to read "The Sky Pilot" by Ralph Connors, to begin in the Advocate Tuesday.

IN TIME

A DEFECT IN TROLLEY CABLE WAS DISCOVERED.

Truck Loaded With Passengers Stopped on the Incline and People Crawled to Safety.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 3—In the nick of time Fireman Morris Coffey in charge of the machinery of the Pennsylvania incline on Seventeenth street, Sunday discovered that the shaft of one of the drums around which the cable hauling the big cars was wound had cracked. Two heavily freighted cars with a number of people on each, were moving on the 1000 foot plane, several hundred feet from the bottom. Coffey signaled to the engineer, who brought the cars to a stop midway between the top and the bottom.

Panic stricken the passengers awaited the slow and careful progress downward of a messenger who crept to tell them that the machinery was broken, and that there was no hope of their reaching safety except by crawling, as he had done, along the cleared board that runs between the two tracks. The fears of the women were allayed, and with careful guiding and words of encouragement from those in the cars the hazardous journey began. The majority climbed to the top, but several tried the way down over the 100 foot space between the elevated and the railroad tracks. The cars were heavily loaded with passengers. Two teams, one belonging to Hartley Bros. and the other to James Miner, were also on the cars. These were left suspended and cannot be relieved until the shaft is repaired, which, it is thought, will require two weeks.

Great difficulty is being experienced in getting food and water to the animals.

HIGHWATER.

Mrs. Dr. Rutledge has been very ill. Mrs. McDonald is reported very ill also.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bell deserve great credit for the kindness shown by them to Miss Nora Werts through her sickness and death at their home.

Mr. John Steinbaugh of Newark is visiting his aunt, Mrs. J. A. Solinger of this place.

Miss Angie Daries is of Newark is visiting Miss Elaine Glynn.

Mr. Braddock was Secretary.

A special meeting of the members of the John Robinson and Forepaugh-Sells Bros. advertising car No. 3, held in Vincennes, Ind., July 22, four new members of Local No. 11, on Cincinnati were obligated. Jerry Donovan, an organizer of the National Alliance, acted as president, and appointed officers to act, Mr. Edward Braddock, an old Newark boy, filling the position of secretary. After the work of obligating the new members had been concluded an elaborate dinner was partaken of in the dining room of the Union Depot Hotel.

Moments of History.

Elizabeth was about to step on the cloak that Raleigh put down in front when a sudden thought struck her. "Has it been sterilized?" she asked sternly.

It was evident by Raleigh's look of sudden dismay that he had been guilty of gross neglect.

"It only goes to show," said Elizabeth, stinging him through her long-gone as she was lifted over the puddle, "how even one who loves me so much may grow criminally careless."—Philadelphia Ledger

A Secondary Consideration.

The demure comedienne has closed with the impresario and has agreed to create the leading role in the new comic opera.

"And now," says the impresario, "what figure would you want for the season?"

"Oh," she flutters, with an affectation of embarrassment, "had we not best leave that to the costumer?"—Judge.

In Doubt.

"Do you think that the theatrical profession leads to unhappy marriages?"

"I have never been able to decide," answered the manager, "whether a stage career leads to divorce or divorce leads to a stage career."—Washington Star.

Repartee.

"Ah," he said to her over her ice cream, "it is very sweet, but not so sweet as you."

"It is soft," she returned promptly, "but not so soft as you."

"And it is cold," he concluded, "but not so cold as you."—Philadelphia Press.

For Her Sake.

"Why do you argue with your wife?" asked the bachelor. "Don't you know the utility of it?"

"Of course," replied the married man. "But I have to allow her a little pleasure once in awhile."—Philadelphia Record.

"I'll turn you agonistics and several other kinds of tricks."

The Sky Pilot

BY RALPH CONNOR

There are many more just as exciting. In fact, there is not a dull line in it. The Observer, Louisville, Ky., says: "You will never put it down if you once begin it."

Full to overflowing of humor and pathos. "The Sky Pilot" deals with the same class of people as "Black Rock." I have made inquiries about Ralph Connor and find that he is a Sky Pilot himself. His touch is true, but it is also fine.—Miss Jeanette Gilder, in Harper's Bazaar.

It will begin in a few days. Don't miss it.

ADDRESS

BY KING EDWARD T OTHE IRISH PEOPLE.

His Majesty Was Warmly Greeted at Cowes—Trip Has Been a Benefit to the King.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Aug. 3—The royal yacht Victoria and Albert reached here last evening, and King Edward ordered the issue of the following address: "Ho my Irish people: I desire on leaving Ireland to express to my Irish people now deeply I have been touched by the kindness and good will they have shown to the Queen and myself. Our experience on previous visits had indeed prepared us for a traditional welcome of a warm-hearted race, but our expectations have been exceeded. Wherever we have gone, in town or country, tokens of loyalty and affection proffered by every section of the community have made an enduring impression on our hearts.

"For a country so attractive and a people so gifted we cherish the warmest regard and it is therefore with supreme satisfaction that I have so often during our stay heard the hope expressed that a brighter day is dawning upon Ireland. I shall eagerly await the fulfillment of this hope. Its realization will, under divine providence depend largely upon the steady co-operation, upon better and more practical education, upon the growth of industrial and commercial enterprise and on that increase of mutual toleration and respect which the responsibility my Irish people now enjoy in the public administration of their local affairs, is well fitted to teach. It is my earnest prayer that these and other means of national well-being may multiply from year to year in Ireland, and that the blessings of peace, contentment and prosperity may be abundantly vouchsafed to her.

"EDWARD R. and L. August 1."

Copies of the address were posted throughout Ireland today.

Their Majesties received a great reception on their arrival here.

BAD FALL

Mrs. Edna Coon Was Seriously, Perhaps Internally Hurt, by a Fall at Hanover.

Mrs. Edna Coon met with a very painful and serious accident Monday morning at 5 o'clock at her home in Hanover. Mrs. Coon was preparing to come down stairs when she slipped and fell to the bottom. Her collarbone was broken, several ribs were torn loose and her right wrist was broken. Dr. W. Q. Evans was called and dressed the wounds and reset the bones. It is not believed that the injuries will be fatal, but it is feared that Mrs. Coon may have been internally injured.

Water Rising.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 3—The Missouri river jumped up 27 inches in the past 24 hours, the result of cloudbursts in central Kansas. The Union Pacific again is temporarily out of business, forty miles of track between Kansas City, Topeka, Elsworth and Salina being weakened.

The Missouri river is rising and the Kaw river rose five inches an hour all morning and stands at 5 feet above normal. Much driftwood is being swept against the temporary bridges here which replaced the permanent structures destroyed by the Decoration day flood. Considerable minor damage has been done. The river is not out of its banks yet but there is much alarm.
